

Oracle eDelivery

The Oracle product and associated documentation that you've purchased are available for download from the Oracle eDelivery site (<https://edelivery.oracle.com/>). Please browse to this location and once there login with your Oracle Account credentials, or create a new account by following the prompts.

In the Search field, enter the name of the product that you've purchased to view a list of matching file sets.

Select (click) the applicable file to add to the "View Items," cart (upper right hand corner), then select Continue. Follow the prompts to download the files to your device. Please note that you may not need all of the files listed for your installation plan. Refer to the documentation or contact our team for assistance.

The file set includes Documentation, which once extracted displays a link to the "Where to Get Documentation, Training and Support" PDF.

Your purchase includes the first year of Oracle Software Update and License Support; Having active support entitles you to upgrades, updates, patches, technical support and access to the My Oracle Support (MOS) portal.

Oracle has, or will send you a welcome letter via email that contains information about your license(s) including a Customer Support Identifier (CSI) #. Please refer to the PDF document Oracle Order Process FAQ for more information.

Taradigm offers many supporting services including:

- Installation
- System Configuration
- Training
- CPM Scheduling
- On-call Services

Please contact us if you have any questions.